Executive Committee hires Jorgenson Consulting to assist in search for new EDC President

Fargo, ND – January 24, 2018. The Greater Fargo Moorhead EDC Executive Committee recently hired Jorgenson Consulting to help lead the search for a new EDC President. The Executive Committee also named a search committee made up of board members, investors and community leaders.

Jorgenson Consulting will conduct a local, regional and national search for an experienced executive who is inclusive, transparent and collaborative.

In December, Jim Gartin announced his retirement, effective March 15, 2018. Gartin began with the EDC in February 2012.

"Jim's work leading the organization has put the EDC in a very good position. We are poised to continue the momentum. I am confident we will find an experienced professional capable of continuing the critical work of the EDC." Jeffrey Volk, EDC Chair and President, Moore Engineering Inc.

Jorgenson Consulting has more than 25 years of experience serving organizations in non-profit, economic and community development. Jorgensen assisted in the EDC's two previous searches that brought Gartin here as well as Kevin McKinnon.
